

Join SIB! Membership Form

Name: _____

Email: _____

Cell: _____

Name: _____

Email: _____

Cell: _____

Local Address:

Number of memberships: _____
@ $10 / member / year (Jan-Dec)

Make check payable to: SIB

*Mail to: SIB, 1202 Landfall Way,
Seabrook Island, SC 29455*

Volunteers Needed!

Join a SIB Committee...

Activities/Birdwalk Planning _____

Bluebird Boxes _____

Communications: _____

Habitat _____

Hospitality _____

Membership _____

Programs & Speaker Planning _____

Watch and Protect

Great Egret, Jenkins Point

Birding Hotspots and Habitat

North Beach: One of the best beach birding habitats in SC. It should not be missed! Diverse and numerous shorebirds and seabirds. (ex: Piping Plover & Red Knot)

Jenkins Point: Large marsh habitat with numerous fresh and salt water ponds. Spring: egret & heron rookery & roost; winter: ducks.

Palmetto Lake: 3/4 mile walking trail around the lake. Good for songbirds & warblers, birds of prey, herons & egrets.

Equestrian Center: Large pastures and woods. Good for birds of prey & sparrows.

Firehouse Marsh: Wading birds: Roseate Spoonbill, Glossy Ibis, Wood Stork.

SIB Bird Checklists available at the Lake House and Amenities Office

Least Tern, North Beach

Seabrook Island Birders

watching learning protecting

Painted Bunting, SI Backyard

American Oystercatcher, North Beach

Seabrook Island Birders are residents, renters and guests of Seabrook Island, SC who have an interest in learning, watching, and protecting the incredible variety of birds and habitats that are on Seabrook Island.

email: seabrookislandbirders@gmail.com
website & blog: seabrookislandbirders.org

Learn and Watch

Evening Program

Backyard Birding

Meetings, Activities, Info

Membership Meetings: Quarterly evening educational programs at the Lake House are fun & social events.

Bird Walk Activities. Learning Together walks at SI hotspots, Backyard Birding, Camp St Christopher & off-Island trips, led by knowledgeable birders.

SIB Website & Blog: Bird of the week articles, recent sightings, advice on birding apps and resources, calendar of events and registration.

Bird Counts & Banding Activities: Christmas Bird Count, Great Backyard Bird Count, bird banding at Kiawah Island with a wildlife biologist.

Ambassador Program: Identify your backyard birds with assistance from SIB.

Visit www.seabrookislandbirders.org to view schedule of activities and to register for events.

Christmas Bird Count

Learning Together

Bald Eagle, SI Golf Course

Red Knot, North Beach

Yellow-throated Warbler

Eastern Bluebird, SI

Bird Walk, Camp St Christopher

Protect the Habitat

Piping Plover, North Beach

The north end of Seabrook Island beach is designated by US Fish & Wildlife as a Critical Habitat, essential to bird species that need special protection. Piping Plovers, an "Endangered" species, migrate here in winter. Our "Threatened" species are migrating Red Knots, and nesting Wilson's Plovers & Least Terns

Wilson's Plover, North Beach

Dog Rules

No dogs are ever allowed past the signs on North Beach at the start of the Critical Habitat. This is to protect our birds & habitat, and to obtain state and federal approval for future beach restoration projects.

